RABBI FINE'S MESSAGE

LETTER FROM LAUSANNE

This is Emanu-El's European correspondent reporting for the annual edition of The Scroll. It would take all the pages of The Scroll to tell you everything about our experiences and travels. So, I have selected just one topic that seems to me to be most appropriate for our Religious School annual. I hope to have many opportunities to tell the rest during the next school year.

Soon after we arrived in Switzerland and found a place to live, near the city of Lausanne, we established a European branch of the Emanu-El Religious School. I have been the "faculty", Lloyd (Emanu-El Class of 1958) has been the assistant teacher, Jonny and Debbie (Emanu-El Classes of 1965 and 1967) have been the entire student body, and Mrs. Fine has been serving as the Sisterhood Guild Religious School Committee. (Once in a while, we serve refreshments and have a Breakfast Club meeting.)

We attended Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur services at the synagogue in Lausanne, and

RABBI HELLER'S MESSAGE

I would like to address these few notes primarily to members of the Confirmation class. In a few weeks you will be Confirmed in your faith. I hope that this day will not mean the end of your religious training. Your religion, Judaism, is the kind of religion which combines worship, study and conduct for an entire lifetime.

I trust that you will consider your Temple as the ever continuing, ever faithful friend in all your endeavors. In an uncertain world, you will hunger for the steady and the familiar. Your Jewish faith and Temple Emanu-El are here to give you this feeling of certainty and belonging without keeping you chained to the past or the present.

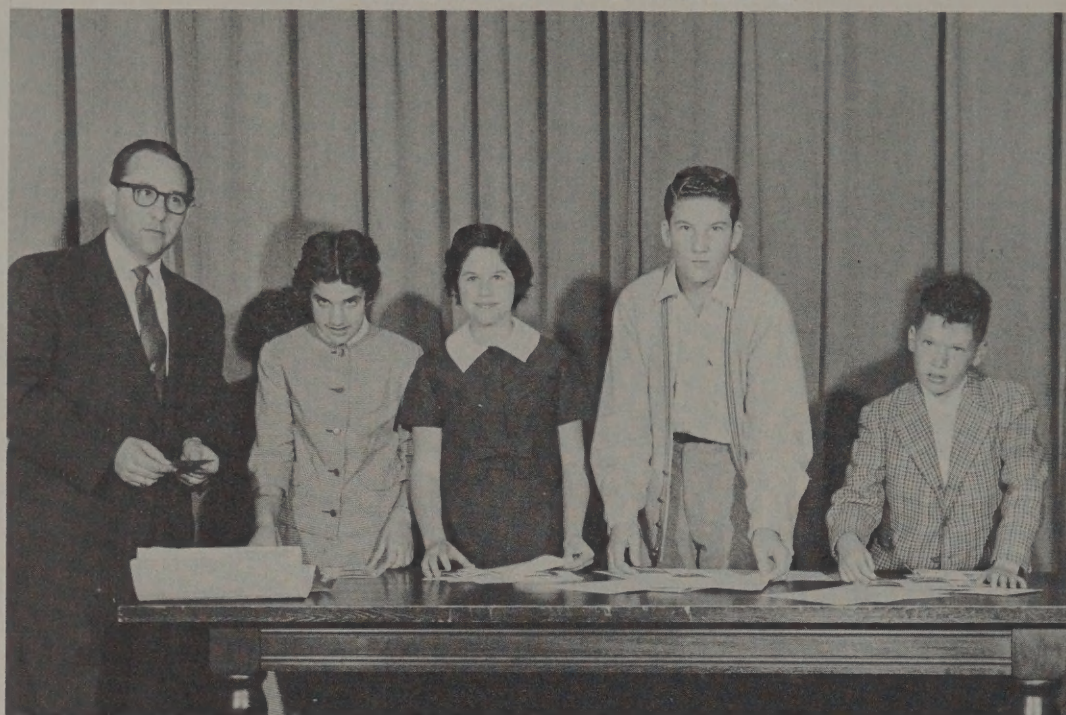

I pray the Confirmation will be for you a glorious experience of exaltation and what is more important, a turning point in your lives.

For the others in the school, I pray you will enjoy a pleasant vacation and return to us in the fall in good health. I'll be there to greet you at the Arguello Street gate.

"May the Lord watch between me and thee when we are apart one from the other"

We sincerely hope you will enjoy and keep this Scroll as a memento of your years at Emanu-El and we are sure it will become more meaningful to you as years go on.

CONFIRMATION PRAYER

A prayer written by one of our confirmants a few years ago

Lord, Thou has blessed us and we are truly grateful. On this day of our Confirmation, a very high point in our religious lives, we are more than ever aware of Thy blessings. For Thou hast given us everything with which to build a more peaceful and stable world. Thou has given us our families, our teachers and our rabbis, who have helped us to draw a distinction between what is right and what is wrong. Thou hast given us Thy Torah which teaches us what is required of us. Thou has implanted within each of us a conscience so that each of us may have our own guide which tells us what is right and what is wrong. And Thou hast given us the freedom to choose.

And now, O Lord, we have completed one phase of our learning. In order to continue our building with the foundation we have received, we must ask for one more gift from Thee. We pray for strength. For with strength, we can go out of our way to do right. With courage, we can resist the temptation of doing wrong. With strength of spirit we shall not fear, and with strength of purpose we shall sanctify our lives and help to create the world for which we have so often prayed.

May the words of our mouths and the meditations of our hearts be acceptable unto Thee, O Lord, our rock and our redeemer.

Amen

Rabbi Fine's Message (cont'd)

we attend that synagogue, also, for Shabbos and Festival services. (On Yom Kippur, we were very happy to see some familiar faces from Emanu-El, here in the Lausanne synagogue.) On several Sabbaths, I have been given an Aliyah - (called to the Torah.)

Our religious school class discusses many things about Judaism and Jewish history, but the main subject has been study of the Torah. Also, we have had some very interesting and enjoyable Mitzvah projects.

Our house is located on a rather high hill, overlooking Lake Geneva. We have named it Villa Mont Fine (or in Hebrew, Har Fine.). The house is surrounded by terraced vineyards; and during the grape season, when we sang the Kiddush, we could actually see the ripening "fruit of the vine" from our windows. For Sukkot, we built our own Sukkah on the patio. We bought some of the fruit at the open farmers' market, but we picked most of it ourselves from the trees near our house. We made the Lulav from the leaves of a palm shrub growing in front of the patio. During Sukkot, we ate in the Sukkah as often as we could.

Another of our special activities was to make our own Chanukah Menorah, as well as all of the traditional decorations. We attended the Chanukah candle-lighting service and children's party at the Lausanne Synagogue. But, the most interesting event of Chanukah was the evening we invited about sixteen of the children's schoolmates for our own party at home. It was quite an international and inter-religious gathering. There were several American children whose parents are now living in Spain, North Africa and India. There were two American children from Detroit. The rest were Swiss, French, English - and two youngsters from Thailand. It was an unusual Chanukah celebration for us - and most enjoyable. Several of the parents who brought their children were so interested that they asked for permission to stay for the kindling of the Menorah and to hear the story of Chanukah.

Recently, an amusing incident occurred in our religious school class. We decided to select our favorite Bible story. It was a tie - one vote for the story of David and Jonathan, and one vote for the story of Deborah.

As you know, it has been necessary to write this letter early, so that the editor will have it on time. Therefore, I am writing it just before Purim. Now, Mrs. Fine, Lloyd and I are looking forward to one of the most exciting experiences of this year abroad - our visit to Israel. Most likely, we shall observe Pesach there.

This year we have studied about the Chadism who believed prayer to be all important in reaching and knowing God, rather than study Torah and Talmud. In order to determine the validity of their beliefs, we have discussed the background material for Torah and Talmud, and have concluded that prayer is essential but incomplete, and we must know Torah and Talmud to live as good Jews in the full sense of the word.

When you read this, it will be Shabuot and the time of Confirmation. The religious school year will be over. I have received many reports telling me that it has been a year of excellent performance and outstanding achievement throughout the school, and I am happy and grateful to know this. All of us here at the European branch join in sending our congratulations to the Bar Mitzvah group, the Confirmation Class, the High School graduates and Alumni, the Honor Cup winners and the Editorial Staff of The Scroll. To all of you and your families, faculty and student body, we send our fond regards. God bless you.

שְׁלוֹם וּבְרָכָה לְהַתְקַאוֹת/

We look forward joyously to seeing you very soon.

Faithfully,

Rabbi Alvin I. Fine

— CONVERSATIONAL HEBREW CLUB —

In its first year the class enrollment remained approximately 24 children, who gave perfect attendance throughout the year, meeting voluntarily prior to the regular school session on Saturday mornings at 9:00 A.M., acquired about 150 words in Hebrew vocabulary, collided with Hebrew songs, got steam-rolled by Hebrew grammar and emerged victorious and richer for a wonderful experience in Judaism. The Club presented its songs in the auditorium on Chanukah and Passover. Most of the members of the Club acquired the ability to read Hebrew without much difficulty, as well as to speak the language in sentences.

*"Enter into His gates with Thanksgiving,
And into His courts with praise."
(Psalms 100:4)*

- SERMONETTE - by PATRICIA BERKE, 4th grade

Once there was a duck named Herman. He was not like any other duck, for instead of flying like a regular duck, Herman could only fly backwards. When Herman was little, all of the other ducks made fun of him. However, as he grew older, they stopped making fun of him. They realized that Herman had a special talent -- flying backwards is really very practical. Every year when the ducks flew South, Herman was the leader. He was chosen for the leader because he could always see what was behind the ducks and warn them about hunters.

When Herman became of marriageable age, even though the female ducks liked him, they refused to marry him because they thought he was too unusual. But finally, a handsome lady duck consented to marry him. Herman was so happy that he decided to surprise his young bride.

Herman practiced and practiced when he was alone until he could fly forward. He didn't tell anyone about it until they were ready to start the trip South. Herman took his position at the head of the flock and much to everyone's surprise he began to fly forward. No sooner had they started than --- hunters! But Herman not facing backwards as he usually was, didn't see them so he couldn't warn the other ducks. Bang - went the hunters' guns and poor Herman fell to the ground.

Now there is a moral to this story. The moral is that you should be an individual and be good in what you do and not try to copy others. For you see, if Herman had been an individual and had been proud of his special talent and had not tried to copy the talents of others, he could still be flying South with all his duck friends.

THE PURPOSE OF JEWISH EDUCATION

by

Steve Solter

The purpose of Jewish education is mainly to continue the knowledge Judaism acquired during the past 3000 years.

Today, the Jews of America, are disregarding their Jewish heritage while attempting to become 100% American.

If this trend continues, it is my belief that within the next 50 years, such a great decline in Jewish learning as well as ritual practice may result that Judaism may no longer exist. Only through Jewish education can this problem be solved.

WHY I BELIEVE IN GOD

by

Mike Glassman

I believe in God because it seems the most logical explanation for the creations on this universe. The many wonderful things on this earth and sky were created for a purpose, and this purpose seems to be the work of God. God must exist because so many people believe in Him and His creation.

THE MEANING OF PRAYER

by

Lori Jacobs

Prayer to me is our expression to God in hoping for His guidance and help. Prayer is a link between man and God. As I enter the Temple I feel close to God through my prayer book and through my silent devotion.

GOD

by

Eileen Channy

God is One and God is Holy. Man is logically good. Within us there is something divine as we are somewhat the image of God. We created the idea that God created us. People must have something to believe in.

by John Baren

A good Jew is one who is faithful to his religion, studies to understand its meaning and purpose so that he can teach his children the important points of his faith.

In the Kindergarten our prime purpose is to create an interest in Jewish activity and make the child feel he is an integral part. We celebrate the Holy Days, Shabbos and the major and minor festivals with song, rhythm and storytelling. We use many media in art. All in all, Kindergarten at Emanu-El is a joyous experience in Jewish living.
